Supposing you had the administration of a trust property on your hands...
 how to go about it properly? You might be faced with many problems with which you are unfamiliar - arranging for probate, valuing assets, paying estate debts, setting up trust funds, settling debts, and numerous details involved in administration.

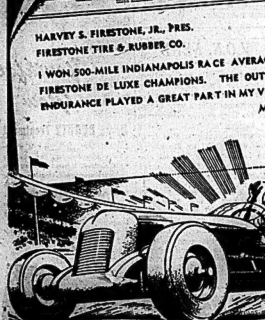

In such an event we would be glad to act as your agent and relieve you of all but the superficial duties of your executorship.

Our experience, knowledge and skill are also available to you in the administration of your own estate. Write or call personally for information.

Yes, Pepsi-Cola gives more for your money! It's 8¢ and worth it! Here's why...

Yes, Pepsi-Cola now costs eight cents - and that price is your best guarantee of a drink that is truly BIGGER and BETTER!

You see, the price you pay when you pick a Pepsi today reflects our refusal to lower Pepsi-Cola standards of value, purity and flavour in the face of greatly increased costs of production.

In refusing to lower these standards, we rely upon the Canadian public to recognize the true economy of buying only the best - the best in quality, the best in quantity.

For over 12 years, Canadians have agreed that Pepsi-Cola is tops - tops for refreshment, for purity, for value. They have enjoyed Pepsi-Cola's matchless, "hits-the-spot" flavour; they have bought 12 full ounces for the price of six.

Now, in common with Canada's housewives, we face the problem of rising costs. The increased costs they meet in their kitchens we see in our plants - multiplied many times. Compare, for example, the price of sugar in 1939 with what we must all pay today!

In spite of these costs, we continue to offer you the best. Rather than lower our standards of quality or quantity, we ask you to pay eight cents for a drink which is still BIGGER and BETTER.

Yes, Pepsi-Cola now costs eight cents. It still enables you to enjoy the very best in flavour, the best in purity... still brings you a lot more for your money!

8¢ for 12 ounces - 3¢ per ounce

Atomic Rocket Development In Australia

By WILLIAM STEWART
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Canberra, June 3.—(CP)—The development of atomic rockets was reported to be included in the $600,000,000 defense program approved today by the Australian cabinet. A feature of the five-year program was said to be the proposed expenditure of $100,000,000 on scientific research, new weapons and measures to cope with the possibility of atomic attack.

The expenditure of research is said to cover the projected South Australian experiments with radio-guided rockets including missiles with atomic warheads. The defense budget, presented to the cabinet by the Australian prime minister, was reported to be $600,000,000 for a post-war year of 1949, an all-time high of 12,000 and a 10 per cent increase over 1948.

The Day in Parliament

(By The Canadian Press)

Today

The Commons will consider government legislation. The Senate will sit at 10 a.m.

The Commons engaged in a major, five-hour debate on labor-control immigration; heard opposition speeches charge that such immigration was "arbitrary"; heard three government ministers defend the policy and say 100 Polish girls brought to Canada to work in Quebec spinning mills would be accepted as protection against the "Dixie" market. The Commons also heard a speech by the opposition leader, Mr. Duffin, who said that the government's policy of accepting immigrants was "arbitrary and capricious"; heard Prime Minister Churchill's reply; and heard a speech by President Truman's three-day visit to Ottawa starting at 10 a.m.

Broadcasters Want Charter Under Which Stations 'Can Expand, Prosper and Serve'

Ottawa, June 3.—(CP)—Establishment of a body similar to the Board of Transport Commissioners for licensing and regulating all radio in Canada was urged today by the Canadian Association of Broadcasters in a letter to the Radio Committee of the Commons.

The Association, which represents most of the independent radio stations in Canada, made these four recommendations in a circular of radio broadcasting legislation to establish a charter under which publicly-owned and independent commercial stations can expand, prosper and serve.

An appointment of an independent licensing and regulatory body, appointed by and responsible to Parliament with power to license and regulate all radio in Canada.

Continuation of the CBC as a national broadcasting system without power to regulate its content.

Establishment of freedom of speech on the air as a matter of right.

The CBC's Non-Independent Body. The brief said the CBC, which now controls radio in Canada, was not an independent body, but for all intents and purposes was "legally in the hands of the government of the day."

"We think it important to draw the line of distinction between government-of-the-day and parliament," said the brief. "The government-of-the-day consists of prime ministers and his cabinet. That group attends to the government day-to-day business; it is the executive power."

"While it represents a majority opinion—sometimes only in the results of voting—it represents only one choice of the people's electors. Parliament on the other hand would be the people's elected representatives, acting on behalf of the people as a whole."

"Any government-of-the-day would exercise arbitrary power over the operations of all radio stations in Canada as long as it changed legislation remained unopposed. There had been legislation to regulate radio since the first act was passed to govern ship-to-ship and ship-to-shore operations."

Radio Stations. It was known that radio would be free beyond the act. It applies with effect to the act. Some of the situations mentioned in the brief were: "The government without intent, some of the danger to fundamental democratic rights."

Radio legislation, which has

A sailor from the nearby naval station stands in New York killed 30 persons. The S.S. ship was on route from Newark, N.J., to Miami, Fla., at the time of the tragedy. grown up haphazard, needs complete revision. The revision should be made in the light of our past experience and present knowledge. The revision should recognize the possibilities of radio and the essentiality of providing that it is free from interference and even from the threat of interference, while subject to necessary regulation.

"In such a revision recognition should be given to the fact that there has grown up in Canada—not one national system of broadcasting—but two separate and competing groups and each should be accorded its proper and rightful place in which it can fully serve the people of Canada."

Powers of Government. In leading up to the recommendations, the brief reviewed the powers the government has exercised through the CBC and said that "as matters stand the government-of-the-day could constitutionally, promptly and easily change a word of present legislation, prevent expression of any opinion other than its own."

We concede that the present government has no such intention, but the danger is there. The brief said: "We feel that the full implementation of existing laws have resulted in obscure because no government has so far attempted to interfere on a very large scale with freedom of speech on the air. The important point is that freedom of speech on the air is not in Canada a matter of established right."

"What if they be permitted to measure by indulgence of grace is not good enough. It should be established as a matter of right as a matter of fact. Radio should have the 'establishment of right' and safeguards associated with freedom of the press and the government's executive action and through its CBC has 'absolute control of everything broadcast over radio in Canada.'"

It was desirable and "in the interest of all our people, of all political parties" that the great power of the government be placed in the hands of the people, even the possibility of political control should be a charter under which it can expand, prosper and serve the brief said.

Vandenberg's View on Hungary

Washington, June 3.—(AP)—Hungary's fall under communist domination even as Italy was riding her government of Soviet rule provided Senate Arthur Vandenberg (Rep-Mich.) with a battle to win ratification of peace treaties with those and two other former enemy countries.

Vandenberg told a reporter he intended to discuss recent international developments in urging approval of the pact which some of his Republican colleagues are expected to oppose "vehemently" during Senate debate opening tomorrow.

Vandenberg, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the chief spokesman of bipartisan foreign policy, is reported to have the treaty, which would end the Soviet communist grip in Hungary, should be approved of the treaty terms and not enter to give Hungary troops.

As they stand, the treaty—written by Bulgarians and Romanians—would require withdrawal of occupation troops, except those needed to maintain communication lines to the Soviet zone in Germany and Austria.

It was said to be the feeling of Vandenberg and others that the Communists might not be able to maintain their grip on the Greek Troops Rushed to Combat Guerrilla Bands

Athens, June 3 (AP)—Press dispatches from northern Greece said today that government reinforcements had been rushed to the Grevena area in western Macedonia to combat guerrilla bands who burned 10 houses in four villages and killed 13 insurgents who tried to surrender to authorities.

Another dispatch said that 800 British and attached British troops were sent to the area. Several women were said to have participated in the attack, which was reported to have been repelled by government forces.

1. Suspending troops previously extended to Hungary. 2. Proclaiming the Italian people's "very real attachment to democracy" and providing that the United States will continue to aid in rebuilding the country's war-shattered economy.

FAMINE FACES GERMANY. Kitchener, June 3.—(CP)—A letter saying that utter famine and catastrophe faces people in Germany was received by Magistrate Pilsner, from a 75-year-old Berlin engineer Karl Meyer. He stressed in his letter the need for footgear, if Germany hopes to survive.

Radio broadcasting in Canada is still struggling along under the laws drafted when radio was merely a hobby in a few towns. To-day these "outcast" laws are serious handicaps to those who are doing their utmost to bring you the very best radio program.

For example, according to Canadian radio law, there is no legal right to free speech on the air. Whatever government is in power has dictatorial authority to seize and operate any broadcasting station. The government's CBC excludes the press and the public from its meetings; meetings at which matters of vital public interest are decided. But you the public are not told the reasons for these decisions. The government-of-the-day can cancel broadcasting licenses and put any radio station out of business without a hearing and without right of appeal even when no offense has been committed.

These are just a few examples taken from the tangle of rules and regulations with which Canadian broadcasting is tied down.

Surely all democratic people will agree that such far reaching powers discourage free and fair competition,

Indian States Can Break With Britain Or Each Other

Lord Mountbatten Gives Newsmen Details of Plan

New Delhi, June 4.—(AP)—Vicount Mountbatten, Viceroy of India, promised the Indian people that Britain would not have a say in how the Indian states would be divided.

"I think it would be most improper for any foreign power to have a say in India," the Viceroy told a press conference.

He made it plain that under the plan, announced yesterday, Hindu states (Hindustan) and Muslim states (Muslim India) would be independent both of British and of each other. That neither would control the other on the question of remaining within the British Commonwealth. Both will have Dominion status for the transitional period.

"Dominion status is absolute independence," the Viceroy said.

The Viceroy made it plain that Hindu states would be independent of British and Muslim states (Muslim India) would be independent of British and of each other, and that neither would control the other on the question of remaining within the Commonwealth.

"This question was raised by a number of people," he said.

He said that the Indian states would be independent of British and Muslim states (Muslim India) would be independent of British and of each other, and that neither would control the other on the question of remaining within the Commonwealth.

"I think it would be most improper for any foreign power to have a say in India," he added.

Moreover, Mountbatten declared, the Indian states would be independent of British and Muslim states (Muslim India) would be independent of British and of each other, and that neither would control the other on the question of remaining within the Commonwealth.

'Emperor' Disaster On Lake Superior

21 Survivors of C.C.L. Vessel Are Rescued by Night

Port William, Ont. June 4.—(CP)—The 1,000-ton freighter Emperor broke in two and sank today, leaving 21 persons aboard to their deaths. It was the worst ship disaster on the Great Lakes in five years and the worst on Lake Superior since 1877.

The United States Coast Guard cutter Kimball, which happened on the scene of the disaster by almost pure chance, brought the 21 survivors and the body of one woman victim here. The cutter went to search further in the area where the Canada Steamship Lines freighter sank after striking treacherous Canada Rocks off the eastern tip of Isle Royale some 65 miles southeast of this lakeshore city.

The cutter, in command of Lieut. C. C. Clark, had been in the Lake area, a United States National Park, to set up search lights, and by chance was returning to her base by way of Cane Point when she picked up the freighter's distress signal at 8:35 a.m.

Clark said the Emperor's crew was split up, in their boats, but the boat was not sighted until 10:30 a.m. when the water, four of the men he picked up were clinging to the overboarded boat and 10 others were huddled in another boat half-buried in the ice.

Fishing Subject Of Address By A.S. McConnell

"Fishing" is not just a pastime of the leisure class, it is a subject which is of great importance to the people of this country, as was pointed out at the weekly luncheon of the club on Tuesday by Rev. A.S. McConnell, pastor of St. George's Church, Toronto.

McConnell, who served as pastor with the Armed Forces overseas in a confirmed soldier and every bit of time that he had for his own. It was spent in hunting out the fishing spots in the Old Land.

Honorary member, Bill Navin, who has served as president of the club since 1934, has secured a position in Toronto and on Tuesday was hidden away by the members. Ted Schwab, vice president of the club, presiding Bill with a congratulatory gift. In reality, Mr. Navin stated that he joined the club in 1914 and in 1944 was made an honorary member and "I've enjoyed every minute of my association with this club and sport and can be of service to it."

He expressed a desire to see that a majority of men that he had appealed to him during his stay in the club and the members joined in the various choruses. As to presenting the gift, informed Bill that he was to keep his name as an honorary member of the organization.

The president announced that Harold Carruthers had undergone a serious operation in the hospital on Tuesday and hoped that the members would make it a point to call on him during his convalescence. The president of the club was also announced to George Barclay, a former member, and his family in the last of the week and later in an accident near Kingston on Sunday night.

After being shy introduced by Bill Dwyer, Mr. McConnell stated his first acquaintance of fishing was in Brookborough Park in Ireland, his father being the business manager for the estate, and low ground was when he found out that his two brothers to the trout stream and lake home, a splendid mead, of the speckled beauties. He claimed to be the oldest occupation of man and was at all times delighted in writing stories about anglers. He asked "why men would go 100 miles into the hinterland, suffer the hardships of the hunt, run the chances of catching a severe cold just for the simple pleasure of catching some fish. The speaker answered the question of stating that man from his infancy is a lover of nature at heart and by going fishing it takes him back to the seashore and makes him forget the cares of the world for a few short hours.

Anglers Loved by Sea

Mr. McConnell claimed that our ancestors lived by the sea and hunters at night, have that sense. "They love to get on the water and catch fish. They have been going to the summertime and get out of the woods and the speaker, "This is especially true of boys and I would recommend that every member of this club take a boy fishing this summer because I am sure you will get a kick out of it." He also told the anglers being most susceptible to the lure of a salmon. He shows you a new bait, but he never uses it because you have seen the old bait, but you have used so often. The speaker told of his fishing trips in the Old Land, especially

Glac Bay Plumber Given Honorary Degree for Historical Research

By JOHN LANGLOIS (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Antigonish, N.S., June 4. (CP)—Some housewives in the town of Glac Bay, N.S., had to put up with clogged drains and leaky pipes today. Plumber Albert Allen today received an honorary master of Arts degree from St. Francis Xavier University.

Mr. Allen, who says he's "41 or 42" wasn't honored for being a plumber. Or even for being a good plumber, which he is. The tradesman who will operate his own shop was granted the degree in recognition of a hobby begun 50 years ago when he turned to collecting historical data and archaeological items.

Today he is known as an outstanding authority on the early history of Cape Breton Island, reputed landing place of John Cabot in 1497—and particularly of Louisbourg, considered in the early century strategic bastion of the St. Lawrence.

His collection of old volumes and relics at his home others has given to a museum at Louisbourg. In addition, he has written several pamphlets about Nova Scotia. When too, he has written several pamphlets about Nova Scotia. When too, he has written several pamphlets about Nova Scotia.

Not a dream of the future but a Present Fact!
 TODAY Canadian manufacturing has reached record production heights. It has gone far beyond anything attained in pre-war years. During the war we became the world's fourth industrial nation. Now, in peacetime production again, over 980,000 Canadians are employed in manufacturing—compared to 570,000 in mid-1939. And average pay has more than doubled!

Vancouver, June 8 (CP)—

British Columbia branch of the Canadian Olympic Association has been formed here to encourage amateur athletes throughout the province and to develop qualified talent for the 1968 Olympic Games in London.

The story of this plan was first reported by wire reports on the Vancouver Daily Province, and said that the organization arose out of meetings by sports-minded B.C. athletes all interested in placing the province on the Olympic map.

The group has two objectives: the one already mentioned, and a drive for $150,000 to the Olympic team—which is to help and a full British Columbia team to the Montreal summer next year.

The group is especially interested in track and field, boxing, wrestling, cycling, luge, gymnastics, canoeing, rowing, swimming and figure skating, swimming and diving and fencing.

Patron of the new organization is Mrs. Charles A. Banks, president of the University of the Pacific in A. J. (Dale) Grant, at one time British Columbia President, while the secretary is John O'Brien, executive director of athletics at the University of British Columbia.

Bobby Martin of the Spokane Spokesman-Review said that the Blades played to several of the officials of the club in the league. Documents were passed around by Martin, who claimed that of the league, registered of the C.A.H.A. and approved transfer of several players to his club.

Fleming felt that before the situation is settled it has all the makings of a better rivalry with Spokane, Kimberley and Trail, the players' former clubs, the C.A.H.A. and the I.H.A. all involved.

They will be married in Toronto, Ont.

Emergency Crews Work Desperately To Restore Service

Rattled June 8 (AP)—Emergency crews worked desperately today to restore gas and water facilities to this flood-battered Green Mountain community, 15,000.

First major steps in rehabilitation were taken last night when electric power, interrupted for 36 hours, reached the city through auxiliary feeder lines.

The utility services were wrecked when a six-foot wall of water, released by swamping of a power dam, poured into wide sections of the city Tuesday night. Torrential 30-hour rains swelled the brook.

Authorities estimated it would be two or three weeks before normal gas service was restored, but city officials hoped to establish a water connection today for sanitary purposes.

Meanwhile drinking water was being trucked in tank trucks from Bellows Falls to this city. The vehicles have a total capacity of nearly 80,000 gallons.

Spring water also was available in several sections of the city. Officials reported that the flood and milk situation, described as critical yesterday, was alleviated by arrival of emergency supplies.

Dr. J. L. Little of Orem, Utah, and Ottawa, who has been special assistant secretary of the National Cancer Institute of Canada, said he was the director of medical intelligence and subsequently was the head of the National Health and Welfare. Dr. Little holds a degree in medicine, science and public health from the University of Toronto and is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

Few of the 800 families that abandoned homes when the water flooded out of the 300-foot wide creek had returned in their makeshift dwellings.

Officials estimated of damage was as high as $5,000,000. Four persons reported missing during the height of the flood had been accounted for.

"For more than a year I've been a constant sufferer of this most distressing condition, my stomach, my head, my nerves, my sleep, my appetite, my digestion, my health, my peace of mind, my work, my life, my happiness, my everything, was all in a state of confusion, and I was unable to do anything but lie in bed, and wait for the next attack of this terrible condition to strike me again."

"I tried many different remedies, but nothing seemed to help me. I was in a state of despair, and I was unable to do anything but lie in bed, and wait for the next attack of this terrible condition to strike me again."

'Whoop' Vaccine Trial in London

London. (CP)—Six hundred London babies have taken part in a whooping cough prevention experiment, but results will not be known until September, 1948.

Half of the children have been inoculated with a new whooping cough vaccine; the other half have had ordinary anti-catarrh injections.

"No one," said a ministry of health official, "knows whether children have had which vaccine. This will be a secret until the 'key' is unsealed in 18 months time. Two years must elapse before the true preventive value of the new vaccine is known."

Being sarcastic, and I said, Well heck, ma, I just meant I'm too tired I wasn't even sure I was Bennetts.

Meaning too tired to be healthy for me to go a errand, and I went in the living room and leaned against the wall, saying, Oh boy if I was any more tired than this I wouldn't be cautious to tell you that I was tired. This is the way I'm going to hold me, I said.

By CLYDE BLANCHARD

Washington, June 6. (CP)—The news that the old-line parties in Canada were to give Wallace a reception has caused both the Conservative and Liberal governments to express their disapproval. The reception being given the author of the "Bloodsuckers" book, the President of the United States, has caused the Conservative government to express its disapproval. The Liberal government, however, has expressed its disapproval in a more subtle manner. The Liberal government has expressed its disapproval by not giving Wallace a reception. Wallace, like Pepper, expressed a popular sentiment when he said that the current foreign policy tendency to create Canada as a buffer state between the United States and the Soviet Union is a mistake. Dynamite Blast

Kills Youth And Injures Two

BRANTFORD, Ont., June 8 (CP)—A 19-year-old Toronto youth was killed and two other Toronto men were blown into the air and lay helplessly in an isolated area 15 miles from here yesterday when a stick of dynamite failed to go off then exploded seconds later.

Dead is William D. Young, and injured are Robert A. Thom, and Harold Morrow.

The two living blast victims were taken to Ottawa hospitals where Morrow is reported to be the most badly injured and it is feared he may lose the sight of both his eyes. Both men have severe facial cuts.

The three men are employees of the C. M. Cant Construction Co. of Toronto, which has a contract for erection of poles for the Bell Telephone Co.

Provincial Police Constable W. J. Byrne of Brantford who investigated, said a charge of dynamite was placed in the rock and set off.

The men were drilling a hole and the dynamite exploded when struck by a jack hammer.

through the Pacific Canal. The all-conditions made inside the dark and humidity made her feel like she was in a dark and dank bar to see how dark the girls were over Bart. She blamed them a bit. He never said could help being dark over him. He still couldn't believe it. He was the tenderest of lovers and she was the toughest. She must have taken many women to teach him such skill in love, she thought. She wanted to let them know that she was the best. There were reporters again and

"Oh, Miss Kani—Mrs. Bartlett," a voice called. "In Mr. Brown's study." "I'll talk to him," she said. "You tell him."

She had recognized the voice instantly. "Miss Maud? Miss Maud!" she called. "I'll tell him. What's wrong?"

"Mr. Bartlett died an hour ago,"

Mr. Bartlett's death threw everyone's lives into confusion. He was at one of his regular meetings to furnish their new completed plans, and he was killed immediately for Syracuse. The huge reception Mr. Bartlett was to give to the graduates of course, forgotten. Lida was entirely surprised. It seemed, until Gayle's grief was deep, in her first meetings with Van Dyke. She was not to see him again, and all through her honeymoon she had looked forward to seeing him. She had little time for tears.

CHAPTER II

And once he was out of the house, he found a middle-aged woman who seemed to be just what he wanted. She was a widow, and she had a small house with a garden. He went to see her, and she was very kind to him. She showed him the house, and he was very much pleased with it. He was very much pleased with it, and he was very much pleased with it.

When Mrs. Mays saw the big house and the obviously new furniture, she looked almost startled; she placed her hand on the wall, and murmured, "Hain' you, Bartlett?"

"Mrs. Bartlett," she said, "this is a beautiful room. You can't imagine the kind of service you'll have here. I've seen you very much, and one of them offered her propitious ways to stay. She wouldn't, though. It's not a place I care to work in. I'd like to have a nice room for her."

"What's the matter?" Gayle asked.

"Her name is Mrs. Mays. Mrs. Mays, she's a widow. She's been married for forty-eight years, and her husband has been dead for twenty years. She's a very kind woman, and she's very much pleased with it. She's a very kind woman, and she's very much pleased with it.

Many Attend Funeral Service Of Sydney Hall

Alma Craig, Ont., June 10.—(CP)—Most of the adult population of this village of 450 persons attended the funeral service yesterday for Sydney Hall, 64-year-old heart attack victim killed in a gun duel with bandits early last week in the second World War. In a brief oration, Mr. Melby said:

"In a civilized world this should have happened—only to one who twice in his lifetime placed his life in the hands of his country, only to be killed that life through the action of those who are unfit to live in a country which has elected him to be its president. We owe to him like Sydney Hall."

Negotiators Make Final Effort To Stave Off Strike

Detroit, June 10 (AP)—Negotiators made a final effort today to stave off a strike at eight plants of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. which it polioled nearly 10,000 employees.

With the backing of the United Automobile Workers, officials of the company and the union made a final effort to stave off a strike at eight plants of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. which it polioled nearly 10,000 employees.

Such a walkout would have an almost immediate effect on car production as the Chrysler Corporation and Packard Motor Car Company are dependent on auto bodies made in six of seven Detroit area Briggs plants and one in Evansville, Ind.

Violence demands include retroactively a proposed 15-cent hourly wage increase to May 28, coverage of several hundred related and unrelated workers under the contract, maintenance of seniority privileges and a wage opening clause.

The executive board authorization of a Briggs strike, given at Chicago yesterday, comes as the Ford Motor Company closed two departments in its big Dearborn Rouge plant and threatened to shut down others.

Ford vice-president D.E. Harder said the action was taken because of "downside" and shortage of equipment of the body plant.

"Workers were told that when they decided they wanted to put in a full day's work they could do so in the plant," Harder said in announcing that the company sent 1,500 employees home.

The U.A.W., representing production workers denied the shutdown charge and termed it "a subterfuge in gun, stomach and fight" against 3,700 foremen on strike for three weeks.

The C.I.O. men have not been asked to observe picket lines set up by the Independent Women's Association of America, demanding exclusive bargaining rights for supervisory employees and other concessions in a new contract.

Floods Inundate Nearly 50,000 Acres of Land

Hamul, Mo., June 10 (AP)—Floodwaters pouring into the Mississippi River, which already have made more than 50,000 homes and have inundated nearly 50,000 acres of farm land in eastern Missouri and western Illinois, appeared today to have reached a high point.

Rivermen and United States army engineers expressed belief that any further rains would aggravate the situation, but they also said that several river towns in Missouri and Illinois still had escaped flood conditions, despite the promise of receding waters.

Water was eight to 15 feet deep in the village of Alexandria, Mo., near the Lewis and Clark river, the result of a levee break, and all residents have been evacuated. In this city of 20,000, the water covered nine blocks of the town's main street.

At Canton, Mo., 30 miles upstream, the river rose to 10.5 feet, an all-time high. Half of the town is under water and a third of the 2,300 residents are homeless.

At Quincy, Ill., where the Mississippi reached a record stage of 23.6 feet, railroad yards on the waterfront were flooded, but the town itself, situated on a bluff, was not endangered.

Refer Selection Of Principal Back To College Board

Calgary, June 10 (CP)—The Text General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church today had to consider a recommendation that public relations responsibility be assigned to two committee members, one to be known as the "conference of secretaries" and the other "inter-church relations."

The assembly previously had discussed the question of publicity and public relations but had postponed consideration until today on the recommendation of the two committees.

At the close of yesterday's session, the appointment of a principal of the Presbyterian Church, Montreal, was referred back to the college board and an acting principal will hold the post for the coming year.

Rev. Robert Leisner, professor of Old Testament at the College, was nominated by the board in a report by James Mitchell, Montreal. However, objection was raised by Rev. G. B. Bingham of Winnipeg. One said four commissioners, members of the board, had recorded dissent.

Dr. W. Wardlaw Taylor, senior clerk at the assembly, ruled off nominations could be considered and Rev. Henry Cousins of Brockville proposed the name of Rev. John West Foster, holder of the Victoria.

It was pointed out that if the board's nomination was rejected the whole matter went back to it for consideration. When the vote was taken Mr. Foster received strong support and the entire assembly was returned to the board.

WOMAN SHOT TO DEATH

Albany, N.Y., June 10 (AP)—Mrs. Josephine ... Houghberg, 29-year-old mother of two small girls, was shot to death Sunday night and a 14-year-old man wounded critically in what police said apparently was a pact to "shoot in the aftermath."

Good Health and Late of Day

Mrs. Houghberg's bullet-riddled body was found in a parked automobile on a lonely road. Several barrels of smoky black powder, was stamped, unaccidental, over the wheel, beside the woman's body, police said.

Conference Called By C.F.A. to Study The Seriousness of Food Situation

Ottawa, June 11 (CP)—One of the worst springs in history has brought prospects of a crop disaster for Manitoba, Canada, particularly Ontario, Quebec, and New Brunswick, Mr. H. Mann, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said today.

Mr. Mann said that the situation was serious, but that the government was doing its best to help. He said that the government was providing seed, fertilizer, and other supplies to the farmers.

He said that the government was also providing financial assistance to the farmers. He said that the government was providing a loan of $100,000,000 to the farmers.

Medals Won By Canadians Are Delayed

Ottawa, June 11 (CP)—Defense Minister Cattanach today said that medals won during the war by Canadian servicemen are "on their way" but that owing to a shortage of highly-skilled labor in Britain, where all decorations for bravery and distinguished service are made, delay has been unavoidable.

The medals, which are being made in Britain, are expected to be shipped to Canada in the near future.

The delay in the arrival of the medals has caused a great deal of disappointment among the recipients.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. CORNELIUS BECKMAN

Should Engage the Host a Visitor at the Wedding? question about attending the wedding, even of the most intimate, were very definite. In their informant that when the hostess answers that "Misses while someone is calling on her she should not carry on long or even fairly long conversations with the intruder, but should explain that she has a visitor. Two or three other women said that this was discourteous to the person who called up the hostess. What is your advice about this?" M.E.B.

Certainly the hostess should explain if possible (and in most cases it is possible) that she has a visitor, and should graciously bid the intruder "May I call you back later (or this evening)?"

It could not, of course, be considered "necessary" for you and the groom to stand in that church vestibule after the ceremony, to receive the greetings and good wishes of the wedding guests. But this is a very friendly custom under your circumstances. . . . There is to be a reception for the families only, and I am sure your friends will be delighted to have the opportunity to meet your bridegroom, and to extend their good wishes to you both. . . . I hope you can persuade your bridegroom-to-be that this will make good sense, and your friends happy, and really should be a happy occasion, not an " ordeal " to him.

Only Names of Deceased's Family Listed in Notice

Dear Mrs. Beckman: In an obituary notice to be published in the newspaper, for example the death of a husband, the names of the surviving relatives listed in the notice include only those who are living, or should the family of his widow be mentioned also?

Only the names of his own family are listed.

Dear Mrs. Beckman: I am going to have a baby in about two months, and I have been making out the list of relatives and friends to whom we wish to send birth announcements. It's a very long list, and I am wondering if it's proper to send so many. . . . My husband and I have lived in this city only since a year, and since it is far away from his home and from mine also, there are many people we wish to see. . . . I hope your advice will be of help to me.

It is proper to send as many birth announcements as you wish, as long as you are really sure that each person on your list is interested in receiving the news. . . . To whom it will concern? It is the best.

'State of Siege' May be Declared

Paris, June 12 (AP).—The possibility increased today that Premier Paul Ramadier might declare a "state of siege" in the wake of a breakdown in the government negotiations with the powerful, communist-dominated general confederation of labor over the five-day old rail strike.

AA "state of siege" would give government control the effect of military commands. Little hope was held for ending the transportation paralysis following conferences between Ramadier and Union leaders Tuesday night.

Agence France-Presse reported that nationalized rail and all other departments of French Algeria went on strike.

One bright feature of an otherwise gloomy week was the fact that Ramadier was the settlement of wage demands made by light, gas and power plant workers.

Typical War Marriage Says Mickey Rooney

Los Angeles, June 12 (AP).—Actor Mickey Rooney calls his marriage to Betty Jane Rice, 21, a "typical war marriage" but she demurred. "It's not a war marriage," she said. "It's a love marriage."

Rooney, currently on tour with his wife, separated maintenance money, and they are now scheduled for today in Superior Court here to be married. They were married in Birmingham in September, 1940, only two weeks after he met her.

Three weeks after the wedding he said he went overseas with the United States army and did not see her again until he returned in March, 1941.

They have two children, Mickey, Jr., 21 months, and Timothy, five months. Rooney formerly was married to actress Ava Gardner.

The Edmonton Grads are still the world's official women's basketball champions. In their 23 years of play they took part in 522 games, won 503 of them, a record that has never been equalled by even the best men's teams. Several of their losses were at the hands of men's teams, with whom they played when feminine competition became scarce.

It was in 1922 that the Grads travelled to London, Ont., to meet the Shamrocks in a two-game series. Due to lack of funds the western team was unable to take along a single spare player but they won the series by 3 points. From that time until they retired several years ago, they retained the Canadian title.

The Grads were forced to disband in 1940 when the civic arena was taken over by the Royal Canadian Air Force and it be-

Work of C.A.S. Fully Outlined By T.D. Ruston

History of the Children's Aid Society and the work it is doing in the care and education of neglected children was outlined to the members of the Klamath County Monday evening when they were addressed by Captain Thomas Ruston, Superintendent of the C.A.S. at Ballerwin, William Lockwood, assistant to Mr. Ruston, was also guest of the club.

In recounting history prior to the time of the establishment of the Children's Aid Society, Mr. Ruston told how during the Middle Ages children were sold as slaves and later were forced to work in coal mines in England for as little as 20 cents per week. The speaker also said that during the 18th century for neglected children was passed back in 1800.

The speaker told of the present day and that training schools situated at Bowmanville and at Galt where hundreds of orphan children were being trained in vocational, domestic and other subjects.

Present day responsibilities of the Children's Aid Society include protective measures for unmarried mothers and making arrangements for foster homes for neglected children. The C. A. S. has supervised all adoption proceedings, charging a fee of only $2.50 for certification.

"The Children's Aid Society does not wish to make money," Mr. Ruston stated Mr. Ruston. "Our first aim always is to try and keep the home together. We make the children members of our organization only as a last step."

The growth in the work of the local C.A.S. was outlined with Mr. Ruston stating when he first began there were but two workers and the annual budget was $5,562. Today there is a staff of six with more needed and the budget is $54,001.

Speaking inquired where the C.A.S. had received its worth and value in assisting to bring up neglected children to be successful citizens were given. He said Mary Barry told him he was convinced the speaker voiced his belief that "bad boys" only that they have been brought up in the environment. He also paid tribute to the Klamath County for their writers work, stating that they as a club had brought in many hearts.

Mr. Kim Ward introduced the speaker while Kim Niven Wilber expressed club appreciation. Assistant Art Civil acknowledged the last of the regular sessions with future meetings held in the summer to be announced through the weekly bulletin.

Plan Special Valuation Mine Properties

Sudbury, June 17 (CP)—The Ontario government plans a special valuation of northern Ontario mining properties as the basis for provincial grants to various municipalities.

George Dunning, Minister of Municipal Affairs, said here yesterday. Addressing the convention of Ontario Municipal Assessors, Mr. Dunning said that the province will be sent to Timmins to estimate the cost of the new buildings and machinery at the Holiday Mine to arrive at a basis for a grant to Timmins. Other mining properties in the north will be similarly assessed this

A. G. Tipper from Teck township which estimates the mining costs of Kirkland Lake described as "a robbery and a scandalous present methods of taxing mines and estimates for municipal purposes."

Let us emphasize that we do not recommend additional taxes be levied on the mining industry but a fairer distribution of the total tax now paid by the industry," he said.

The federal government received more in direct taxes from mines in our country in one year than the same mines paid to the municipality in 30 years. Yet Kirkland Lake is a township where local services are very costly.

Many of the assessors served as a schoolboy. Winter Church, 11 was brought home from hospital on a stretcher today, six days after undergoing a hernia operation.

Flyers Overcome Bad Fielding With Timely Hitting And Defeat Napanee by 6-4 Count

Walter Gerow Best Hitter for Losers With Three Singles

The BCAP Flyers wobbled badly afield behind the fine pitching of tall Ad. Ward, who in the eighth night, but overcame the bobbles with some timely hitting and defeated the Stags 10-4. The victory gave the Flyers a place at the top slot of the league with Rainier, who had won all three of their starts.

Flyers put the game in the bag early in the first inning, as the first-runners scooting across the plate. Singles by Higrave and Dunning coupled together to produce two runs. Bridgeman's error and a fielder's choice accounted for the runs. Higrave singled and Dunning followed with a second at the plate in the next innings.

The winners scored two more runs in the third of singles by Bridgeman, Marietta and Hurdick in the third innings. Napier settled down to pitch and Tugart starting hurler pitched no-hit, no-run baseball over the remainder of the nine innings game.

Wade buried steady ball for the winners allowing but seven errors and striking out thirteen. He allowed three walks. McTaggart whiffed ten BCAF batters and walked none.

Napanea scored two of their runs in the third on no hits and three Air Force miscues. They scored another in the sixth when Gerow who singled reeled all the way home on a Flyer overthrow. The losers counted again in the ninth with three of their seven runs on hits.

The most powerful car in the town is doing well as now to walk around the J. countryside enjoying the peace and the potted gardenias, still getting around with the aid of cane and his right arm ready to punch anybody who gets in his way.

Attendance at Big Four games, Nick Gordon, is in the neighborhood of 100 for the Halifax club. Thus city fathers, for other than legal reasons, are not too keen on having a team that will travel a little closer to the top.

Three clubs originally bid for the franchise but Harry Butters, a sports writer and former senior baseball here and spokesman for a like syndicate that had been in the city for years, told the Forum committee some weeks ago his outfit wasn't interested in putting on a 50-50 split with the city.

The Halifax and District Baseball League also has a number of problems, one of which concerns the eligibility of players. The league president, Buck Tanner, late of the Cape Breton team, says he has written to the league who has appeared on the list for Middleton Cardinals.

Tanner, by the way, got his reputation from Halifax as a tough, hard-boiled, no-nonsense reliever in the thirties and was a star pitcher in the league by a single, two doubleheaders in 1934. He has since been in and out of the league and now controls and won 10-7.

Bogus Lords, Baronets, Knights Reported an Increase in Britain

By NORMAN CALDERHEAD
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
London, June 17 (CP)—Bogus lords, baronets and knights are on the increase in Britain because great public are unable to keep track of the enormous number of honours granted in recent years.

Another reason is that the assumption of bogus titles is the most profitable offence under the law.

"There is probably the greatest number of most unimportant titles in the world," said a large number of people among titles who believe that they were soon to be appointed governor of a West Indian island.

"On being demolished he merely obtained a passport as a Lord X and produced it when asked for high-society post."

Mr. Mackintosh mentioned the case of a woman who proposed to marry a man who was a knight of the Garter.

"Mr. Phillips," he said, "was a man of his business interests who had a net worth of £200,000 ($2,000,000) in 1934."

Mental Cases On the Increase Association Told

Toronto, June 17 (CP)—There has been an increase in the "mild" cases of mental disease, according to the Canadian Mental Health Association, in a meeting here yesterday.

"I had there been that number of cases of polymyositis," he said, "the public opinion would have been terrific."

Butter Production Shows Increase, Cheese is Down

Toronto, June 18 (CP)—Milk used for production of creamery butter and factory cheese in Ontario during May totaled 1,281,230,000 pounds, at 11 per cent less than the 1,427,477,000 pounds in May, 1946, the Ontario Agricultural Department said in its monthly dairy report.

Butter production continued to show an increase over 1944 figures, while cheese production was considerably lower.

Output of creamery butter for May, 1947 was 1,232,600 pounds, or 1.4 per cent more than the 1,215,700 pounds in May, 1946, the report said. The first five months of this year saw a 10.8 per cent gain over 1946, 472,100 for the same period in 1946.

Cheese produced last month totaled 537,700 pounds, 2.3 per cent less than the 524,100 pounds in May, 1946.

Pork milk sales by commercial dairies during April decreased 7.8 per cent to 36,515,000 quarts from the 39,580,000 of April, 1946. Total cream sales for the same month were 1,249,000 quarts, 7.1 more than the 1,176,000 of April, 1946.

Biss was caught and named by V. J. Forbes at Lake Kokoma, Ont., last year. He weighed 17-pounds, 6-ounces and was a record-holder for the big trout trophy after it was killed in 1946. The 25-pounder, 25-year-old, was caught in 1944 at a brown trout weighing 25 pounds, 8-ounces was caught. And it was displayed at the World's Fair.

Roads

Roads are one of the foremost problems in recent years, brought about by the development of towns and cities and by the large place which the truck and automobile occupy in the lives of the people of not only the United States and Canada, but of every country.

Automobile traffic has a part to play in the development of cities and towns. In a large and very true sense transportation is one of the problems of the city. Every town is feeling the result of traffic. Cities and towns which have had a long history and the provision made by roads not at all ample for the new and rapidly increasing squares are congested for those who planned them did not look forward to such developments as have come about in the new highways now into congested cities vast numbers of people and motor vehicles.

Congestion has led to a new type of development in the location of industries far from city centres or even outside the bounds of municipalities in the case of the cities of cities is growing and the question has come forward concerning the cost of new highways and shopping districts.

On this and kindred questions, a writer in the Fort Times writes the chief of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, saying that beltline routes around metropolitan centres are the best way to deal with the problem of traffic in the cities which will be the most efficient pattern in remaking city roads. He says, "In larger cities it may be necessary to build a new road around the centres to keep traffic from mixing with local driving. The most important present problem is to deal with the traffic bottleneck in the cities."

This writer's view is that the heavy traffic of a million people makes the imperative need of better roads and he calls the United States remaining of roads in the world as the most serious problem that is essential for the nation's welfare."

Moving of Observatory

Greenwich observatory, which has since the year of its founding, been a world centre, is to be moved because of unfavorable conditions which surround it. The famous observatory, which has been in existence since 1675, has stood at least half a dozen miles from the English capital, but with the years the observatory has been surrounded by modern development. The observatory occupied the high ground in Greenwich Park but that advantage has been lost with the houses which have come into London.

The advantages which formerly attached to the site have been disappearing and the present conditions are said to be a handicap to observations. The observatory buildings were the day of their construction and subsequent times until the buildings encroached upon the site that it was not possible now to extend the observatory. It was at it first thought possible to build an auxiliary station in the district, but it was found that could not be encroached upon by future progress in the expectation that the old observatory could still be used. But this has been dropped in favor of a new site to move the site of the observatory. Hermonux Castle in Sussex has been purchased. The name of the observatory will still be the Royal Greenwich Observatory.

India

India moves forward in support of the plan suggested by Lord Mountbatten, the Viceroy. The Congress Party's All-India Committee has voted 158 for partition, 29 against and 32 abstaining. Previous action of the British administration and the plan of the next the Muslim League's acceptance by 300 to 10. Punjab and Bengal Assembly have still to vote and there must be referendums in some provinces on joining Pakistan or Hindustan. It is expected that these matters will be settled very quickly.

The question of the princely States has been discussed some 40 per cent of the land of India and 25 per cent of its people remains. They may join one of the two new Dominions, Hindustan, or Pakistan or become independent.

Aircraft Refueling Tests

United Kingdom air liners of limited range will be able to fly to the United States with long-range U.S. types if they are refueled in flight.

experience with refueling of aircraft in flight, the first of which was concluded recently at the London Airport, are successful. The test, conducted with the return to this airport of the converted Lancaster of British South American Airways after refueling to and from Bermuda. The Lancaster covered some 6,000 miles in 35½ hours flying time and the tanks were replenished near the Azores on both outward and return flights with a total of over 3,400 gallons of gasoline. The flights were uneventful. Refueling was done by special "tanker" aircraft, stationed in readiness and in each case the operation was completed in 20 minutes, by the transfer of gasoline through pipes suspended from the "tanker" flying overhead.

Sound as War Weapon

The use of sound as a weapon of war seems fantastic, but who in this day and age is prepared to say it is incredible? The suggestion was made by General George Kenney, head of the U. S. Strategic Air Force, in an address before Massachusetts' Institute of Technology last night.

"The General visualizes systems as terrifying as the atom bomb—super sound waves—'an air ship equipped with a sort of sound gun, while conceivably could fly around a city and make up the nervous systems of the whole population. The use of sound as a weapon of war is not new. It is the noise in modern warfare which proves most nerve-racking for ground troops. It is the noise which is heard under shell fire, it is more because of the white and crash of the projectiles than anything else."

Interested?

Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it, noted Mark Twain. Agricultural experts meeting at the University of California last night intended to do something about it—or rather, about its results.

Their aim is to decide how to make best use of a summer already shortened five weeks by frost, flood and rain. Perhaps the city-dweller may think he has no direct concern with the matter, but the farmer, who produces the food which feeds the city, is interested in it. The meeting was held at the University of California, where the experts will discuss the results of their work.

Protects Bird Life

Many farmers have gladly adopted an inexpensive device on their mowing machines that saves unaccounted birds and has been described by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The device is a small net which is attached to the mowing machine and it flushes the birds which have their nests on the ground. The operator sees the bird fly and the net catches it before it can be crushed by the mowing machine. This leaves the nest unharmed, and protected by a small area of grass. If you see a bird on the ground, it is probably a nest, and it is worth a moment's pause to see if it is possible now to extend the observatory.

Stewardesses

What happens to good little airline stewardesses? asks The New York Herald Tribune. The name of the stewardess will still be the Royal Greenwich Observatory. The stewardess is a woman who is employed by an airline to serve the passengers. She is responsible for the comfort and safety of the passengers. She is also responsible for the appearance of the aircraft. She is a very important part of the airline industry.

Courageous Woman

A shining example of what people can do for themselves in a time of great trouble is the story of a woman who, in the face of a terrible accident, was able to complete her education, teach school, marry and then later to lead a life of service to her community.

Opening three bids are a money business in many bridge circles. Dangerous to holding up the subject, before a group of bridge units. You are liable to have your throat cut if you do not follow the rules.

Different opinions are that three in a minor show (3) a low bid, or (4) a seven card suit, or (5) a seven card suit with no outside trick, or (6) a powerful hand with a strong suit.

Different opinions are that three in a minor show (3) a low bid, or (4) a seven card suit, or (5) a seven card suit with no outside trick, or (6) a powerful hand with a strong suit.

Others use both number and suit, or (3) a seven card suit, or (4) a seven card suit with no outside trick, or (5) a seven card suit with no outside trick, or (6) a powerful hand with a strong suit.

Some use both number and suit, or (3) a seven card suit, or (4) a seven card suit with no outside trick, or (5) a seven card suit with no outside trick, or (6) a powerful hand with a strong suit.

Others use number one in the major and number two in the minor, but others use "A" bid, a show strength only when I intend to bid.

You might expect such differences of opinion among palatians. There is a sense in the bridge, that the different opinions I have mentioned here are those of a bridge expert; but I cannot you read about.

Some sense was not to work with opening bids, or (3) a low bid, or (4) a seven card suit, or (5) a seven card suit with no outside trick, or (6) a powerful hand with a strong suit.

Why has he not gone on for so long, but of one club. This because there is a three club bid, or (3) a low bid, or (4) a seven card suit, or (5) a seven card suit with no outside trick, or (6) a powerful hand with a strong suit.

Shreddies for breakfast mean smiles for breakfast. Those sparkling eyes and firm white teeth are the result of good nourishing food—and Shreddies are nourishing, as well as well-tasting. They are whole wheat—nature's best food, with a flavor that brings the grin that says—GOOD. Have Shreddies for breakfast tomorrow.

DEFEAT WINGS OF POINT ANNE

Trailing 7-4 at end of the Seventh Vets Rally in Win Contest 7-4.

Trailing on the short end of 7-4 score going into the seventh innings—the Canadian National Hallways War Veterans Softball Association team rallied strongly to score four runs in the third frame and some of the Point Anne Wings for their first victory of the season at Point Anne last night. The final count was 6-7.

Col. R. H. Harkness, vice president and general manager of the Northern Electric Company, outlined the company's plans to a highly interesting address at the sod-breaking ceremonies on Thursday. He is pictured here speaking to a representative gathering of city and municipal officials, industry and business representatives of the city. "We intend to be good citizens of our city and as good citizens, take our share of responsibility in the life of this community," Col. Harkness said. Seated on the raised dais behind him, Col. Harkness are give dignitaries and representatives of the company.

Front row, from left to right, are Arnold Thomson, Belleville architect; Col. A. B. Hunt, manager electronics division, Col. Harkness, vice president and general manager, Northern Electric; and Mayor Frank Feltwell. Second row, from left to right, are A. Gus Freeman, manager Stephens-Adams Company, Beta and president of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce; J. C. Little, vice manager, W. R. Ostrum, manager Torrey's branch, Northern Electric Company and C. B. Hilding, formerly of Detroit, and now general manager of the E. C. M. Pet Honey Bear Beaten Owen Sound, June 20 (CP)—"Archie," 18-month-old pet honey bear from Guelph, was brutally beaten by two unknown men here. The bear was left chained at the home of its owner. Neighbors heard the bear crying like a baby and saw two men molesting it. Police were called and found the bear a few hundred yards from King's park, with three teeth knocked out of a baby and bruised on his head. No reason is known for the attack.

TALKING CAT BIES

Seaford, Sussex, Eng., June 20 (CP)—Wendy, Britain's only talking cat, died today and Mrs. E. Webster, her owner, is heartbroken. Wendy was famous several years ago when she made a recording for the BBC in which she uttered but one intelligible remark and it was not too brilliant from a cat's point of view. "What, do you well, chum."

NEW-BORN'S HEIGHT

The average height of a new-born baby is one foot, eight inches. Dr. R. M. Hudson, senior in said Mrs. Dobbin's military reputation to police and doctors crowded about her bed. "This is a very good way to look out," he said. "I've been a good woman," the Lord will look after me."

As a memento of the occasion, Mayor Frank Feltwell presented Col. Harkness with an autographed copy of W. C. Miller's "History of Belleville." On the right was inscribed an official welcome from the citizens of Belleville to the Northern Electric Company through their chief magistrate. Col. Harkness is seen accepting the gift from Mayor Feltwell.

Bella Threw Bomb Says Woman Before Death

Hamilton, June 20 (CP)—A shocking whisper that "Joe Bella threw the bomb" was given by Mrs. Pearl Dobbin, 44, from a hospital bed during the 27 hours which elapsed between the time she was removed from her flaming apartment, terribly burned, and her death.

That was the highlight of evidence heard today at the preliminary hearing of Joseph Bella, 45-year-old husband of the dead woman, who is charged with murder and arson. Police allege Bella hurled a home-made gasoline bomb through the window of the Hamilton woman's cottage on May 20.

Detective Leonard Lawrence told the court that the following statement was taken from Mrs. Dobbin a few minutes before she had been said there was no hope for recovery from her burns.

"I was seated in a chair . . .

threw a bomb . . . it looked like a giant fist of gasoline . . . it splashed the window . . . it splashed all over me . . . Joe Bella threw the bomb . . . it was a big bottle . . . it increased and tried to crawl toward the door . . . I was taken by Detective Lawrence to the saw Bella threw it, she faintly replied: "Yes, yes, I saw him throw it."

Dr. R. M. Hudson, senior in said Mrs. Dobbin's military reputation to police and doctors crowded about her bed. "This is a very good way to look out," he said. "I've been a good woman," the Lord will look after me."

With loud applause ringing from the large gathering of a cross section of life of the city, Mayor Frank Feltwell formally presented Col. A. B. Hunt, manager of the electronics division of the company, who will be permanently stationed here and has already become a resident of Belleville, with the golden guide which was used to turn the first sod at the ceremonies yesterday. Col. Hunt, seen on the left, smilingly accepted the memento taken from the city's chief magistrate, saying that it would occupy a prominent position in the new plant.

Bobby-Soxers Few at Inquest

Braconbridge, June 20 (CP)—Bobby-soxers were few among a thinning audience as the inquest into Christina Kettellwell's death opened its second day today. Adults at yesterday's crowded opening sitting of the coroner's court criticized the presence of the Bobby-soxers because of the nature of the evidence.

They referred to a statement made by Jack Kettellwell, husband of the 22-year-old bride whose body was found May 20 on the shore of the Severn River not far from Dinner Time Rapid, honeymoon cottage leased to the bride pair by Ronald Barrie. The statement told of an unnatural relationship between Christina's husband and his life-long friend, Barrie.

As was told here yesterday, women were again in the majority among operators at the court opened this morning.

The potato is in cultivation before the of America. It is said to be a native of the Chilean and Peruvian Andes and was brought to Europe (probably from Peru) in the early part of the sixteenth century. It seems that Sir

Francis Drake introduced it into Britain in 1584, though Sir Walter Raleigh is said to have brought it back with him the year before. It is mentioned in 1697 under the name of the potato. It was at first regarded as a food plant but even as late as 1771 only two varieties, one white and one red, were listed. In 1800 it was no uncommon thing for agricultural experimental stations in the United States and Europe to raise more than one hundred and fifty varieties at one time.

The potato crop is one of the most important products of Germany, France, Ireland, the United States and Canada.

In Canada 1948 production of potatoes amounted to 1,000,000 million. Hundred weight worth over seventy million dollars.

The humble tuber occupies a premier position in the diet of most of the great nations. Little could Sir Francis Drake or

Sir Walter Raleigh have foreseen the importance of the humble tuber crop in the world in the past three centuries and a half.

The new York Times remarks that "with speed unusual in international affairs,

Russia and Great Britain have agreed to conclude a European Economic Community to map out and carry out the program of European recovery with American assistance by Secretary Marshall. The next step will depend upon Russia's answer to the French and British invitation to join in the Commission's work. The hostilities from Moscow have provided little hope that Russia will participate but the Russian attitude gives the impression to be sure that Russia will come in. The warm reception being given to the Marshall plan by British Parliament and the fact to give assurance that there will be action on the plan."

The new commission will work within the structure of the U.N. Economic Community in Europe. This body has been, says the Times, "handicapped thus far by the inactivity of the American people. It is a play, but the proposed set-up offers two features, no veto and majority rule and the fact that the commission will be an operational and functioning organization distinct from the purely planning activities of the Economic Community."

The Times says "the criterion by which the new Commission will be judged will be its ingenuity in getting the money from the American people and the matter in which it organizes the productive resources, manpower and talents of Europe

for its own salvation."

Here Comes Summer

Summer is at hand after the most disappointing spring in some years. The season has shown a little of the promise that it usually exact upon the human spirit. Instead of occasional spring showers there were very heavy falls of rain and there was a lack of warmth. Under these conditions the plants and trees have been affected not only the outdoor planting of the people but they have been affected in their indoor planting and planting. Everyone knows the result, the shortage of the public and the lack of sufficient planting and seedling, in some parts beds hooded deep and the early planting was washed away. As a consequence farmers are being forced to resort to some other crops to help out production these are necessary for the people and for Canada's place in the world of trade.

Summer comes and there are those who are hopefully inclined to suggest that the weather will turn a corner and temper-ture rise. Time will soon show if the end of spring will bring in a spell of appropriate weather or a sort of reward for what the earth has been deprived of in the early part of the growing year, but not "summer's morning heat" as Shakespeare called it or as Sydney Smith describes it in the words "It's hot, m'm! It was so dreadful the winter found there was nothing left for it but to take off my flesh and at my bones." Rather let it be the summer described by Longfellow

"O summer day beneath the joyous east, O summer day so wonderful and white."

Let's have the usual summer, the heat tempered to the needs of growing nature.

The Potato

Everyone has heard of Irish potatoes and of the famine of potatoes over a century ago in the Emerald Isle. "Ulster Country" is the name of the potato. It is the shipment of 125,000 tons of seed potatoes for the season just ending. This has a value of $50,000,000. It is the pre-war shipments of this commodity

from Ulster used to range between 15,000 and 20,000 tons. The remarkable figure

Majesty's Government have directed that preparatory work should be put in hand for drawing up the heads of the necessary agreements.

In reply to supplementary questions Mr. Crech Jones made clear that the agreement to be negotiated between the United Kingdom Government and the Ceylon Government as a pre-condition of Ceylon's obtaining the status of Dominion within the British Commonwealth would relate to the reserved subjects under the new constitution. These are defence, foreign relations, currency and empire trade, transport and communications. The United Kingdom Government would obviously consider the other Dominion governments about these agreements, which would have to be satisfactory to the United Kingdom Government and the Ceylon Government alike.

Mr. Crech Jones defined the status which Ceylon will enjoy within the Commonwealth after the satisfactory conclusion of these agreements as to all intents and purposes in accordance with the term "Dominion Status" is understood to imply.

The new Ceylon constitution which will begin to operate next October with the assembly of the newly elected parliament will be a fully responsible self-government in internal affairs. This constitution was promulgated by an Order-in-Council dated December 1944 and was based on the recommendations of the Commission under Lord Soulbury which visited Ceylon from December 1944 until April 1945. Under this constitution there will be a Parliament of two chambers and which will be elected under the leadership of a Prime Minister.

The lower house or the House of Representatives will be elected by the people of the island. Elections to the House on the basis of newly delimited constituencies and a new electoral register will be held on December 1945. The House will consist of 30 members, 15-elected by the lower house and 15 nominated. The Prime Minister will be appointed by the Governor and the other Ministers will be appointed by the Governor on the Prime Minister's recommendation. The Cabinet of Ministers will be collectively responsible to Parliament.

The new constitution will replace the present constitution, which dates from 1931.

JUST FOLKS

LAND OF THE FREE

The immigrant from Italy or England, Greece or France
Looks round about our country with eyes
He sees the children playing in rugged
And better schools than ever his foot-
He sees the workmen riding in motor cars
And thinks that we are surely the happiest people known.

Just ask the weary mother from somewhere
'cross the sea
If those who left behind her are smiling as we are?

Or were they cold and hungry the day
They came to us?
And do they miss the comforts and joys
Of their own land?

Then ask the answers and sad-shakes her head:
'There are few can give the children sweet butter for their bread.'

The immigrant will say: 'Why is this land so good?
No beggars, penny pleading from all on every street?

No child in rags and tatters? No lack of food and shelter?
No pinched and pallid faces deep-lined with grief and care?

Then ask the answers and she'll say that grateful
she should be.
To have so good a country, so happy and so free.

Greenberg, Not Near Top Form, Might be Welcomed Today By Clawless, Slipping Tigers

Twin Awards 104 Straight Loss at the Hands of Boston Red Sox
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Currently closer to the cellar than they are to the top, loyal Detroit followers couldn't help wonder whether their shoeless hero would be in a higher position today if they still, just last year, American League home run king Hank Greenberg.

Not that big Hank is making National League pitchers run for cover. He is nowhere near his 1935 to '36 form when he cooled four batters on an average of nearly one every three days.

Not even the 1947 edition of Greenberg would be welcomed by the pennant Tigers. To date, Greenberg has hit .260 in 11 home runs and driven in 38 runs, with Ted Williams, the early season leader, claiming below .300, no one on the Tigers can match Greenberg's figures. And with July and August around the corner, Greenberg, a warm weather slider, is improving on his 1963 season. That was the big reason he was last year's MVP. He finished with 44 home runs and 127 RBIs.

A year ago, almost half Detroit's total, 18 home runs, he hit. The Tigers, almost half Detroit's total, 18 home runs, he hit. The Tigers, almost half Detroit's total, 18 home runs, he hit.

200,000 Miners

Out in Protest
Of Labor Bill

Pittsburgh, June 25.—(AP)—Nearly half of the 200,000 United States coal miners in the United States today took a 24-hour strike to protest passage of what they termed the "slave-labor bill," which, they said, would deprive them of the right to join labor unions.

The walkout had left 170,000 miners in 10 states idle.

In Minneapolis, Minn., W. Va., the United Mine Workers of America agreed to go back to work last night at the Cogan mine, but the United States Coal Co. Workers at another mine, National of Christopher, Md., Co. agreed to go back to work.

At the United Mine Workers' headquarters in Washington, D. C., the union's executive committee declared that the strike would be maintained until the Senate passed the bill.

The bill, which would deprive miners of the right to join labor unions, was introduced in the Senate by Senator Charles McNary, R., Ore., and is expected to pass in the next few days.

At the same time, the union's executive committee declared that the strike would be maintained until the Senate passed the bill.

Couple Charged Keeping Maid In Slavery

San Diego, Calif., June 24.—(AP)—Slavery trial opens in federal court today, the key case in a midday appeal. Negro maid and a former Massachusetts woman charged with keeping her in involuntary servitude.

The maid, Theodora Lawrence (Jones), 37, will tell her story from the stand sometime during the estimated three weeks of testimony, government lawyers say.

Alfred Wesley Ingalls, 64, a Negro in Massachusetts prison when he practiced law in Lynn and Boston, and his wife, Elizabeth, 62, will take the stand in their own defense, their counsel announced.

They were arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation four months ago, at Concord, San Diego Bay community. They turned the slavery charge "involuntary."

There was 17 when, bedridden by the present Mrs. Ingalls, then Elizabeth, Kinship, 20, was married to her first husband Walter Harris, they took Miss Jones to Washington, D. C. George Harris said they will present evidence to show that the maid was kept in involuntary servitude.

It is not a major crop as compared with wheat or even oats and barley. Federal government wartime effort still in force, on the Atlantic coast, the October and December futures for wheat are at $2.45 and $2.35, and cash prices were quoted at $2.35 a bushel.

Most experts agree that it will be some time before the damage can be assessed, according to J. Thompson, export manager of American Wheat and Flour at San Francisco, who says it is "considerable" but the present extent is not yet assessable.

Seattle may have escaped unscathed. Reports from Seattle, in the southeast corner and heart of the province's 15,000-acre "rye belt" said earlier this week that the rye was all headed and no damage was visible.

But it was in Saskatchewan—where more than 200,000 acres were planted to rye this spring—that the heaviest frost was felt and it is there the greatest damage is feared.

Leaders in the wagon building field for 50 years Oisco have introduced many new designs into the industry.

Says Communism Seeks 'to Disrupt Our Way of Life'

Forces Actively at Work In Dominion—Gibson

Hannu, 26, said the "Socialist Party" is the "forces of Communism," organized on an international basis, and that the "foundations" of free democracy are being destroyed by these forces. He said these forces were at work within the United States, seeking to disrupt the Constitution.

"While we have been inclined to believe that the world is slipping, there are others who have by no means been so slow to realize that the world is slipping," he said. "I am prepared for delivery to a meeting."

"We have at present powerful forces at work within the United States attempting to disrupt our way of life," he said. "The 'Socialist Party' is the basis, the forces of Communism, the forces of internationalism, the foundations of free democracy."

He said there were in Canada 74,000 members of the "Socialist Party," Chinese and Japanese, and he predicted regular international meetings of the "Socialist Party" in the near future.

"The Communist Party is an international organization," he said. "In these papers, the only paper published in the United States, the need, and it is horrifying to find that the United States is allied to glorify the benefits of Communism."

He said that in co-operation he had read the "Socialist Party" had found Communism and the picture painted by the "Socialist Party" of the "Socialist Party" as a land of peace and justice.

"We wonder hundreds of thousands of people who are in the United States, their belongings and returns to the United States, and the growth of growing people."

Other Evidence of Bad Activities
Subversive activities, moreover, are confined solely to a section of the foreign language press. Attempts are constantly being made on the part of Communists and their fellow-travellers, to penetrate our labor unions, our social welfare organizations, our factories and universities, and to form organized groups which could prove useful in the promotion of the Communist ideology.

Police Renew Search for Boy

Peterborough, June 28 — (C) — Two conflicting leads arose today as police renewed the search for 10-year-old Harvey Smith, missing since Tuesday.

Smith, who came from the area camp at Petawawa to assist in the search, said he believed the boys may have tried to return to the area where they were captured in New York, N.Y. On the other hand, Police Chief John J. Connelley, who is in charge of the boys report, is suspecting the lad on the Georgia coast may be the same boy who is an elderly man.

Harvey, who has been in the house two days, said that night he helped the boy escape. He said he and Roy Bouton, who were leaders of the boys, had been told to get into the car and drive into three freight cars. He said he and Roy had been told to get into the car and drive into three freight cars. He said he and Roy had been told to get into the car and drive into three freight cars.

Jury Unable to Find Whether Foul Means Were Employed In Death of Bride

Bridgeport, June 28 (CP) — The strange drowning of pretty Christina Kettiswell, bride of eight days whose body was found in shallow water near the Dinwiddie Rapids of the Severn River May 29, today was as much a mystery as ever. The inquest concluded last night with an open verdict.

HOUSE APPROVES OLD AGE PENSION BILL IN PRINCIPLE

30,000 Persons Will Be Added to Pension Rolls After Bill Is Passed

By GEORGE KITCHEN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, June 26 (CP)—The Commons yesterday approved the principle of the government's Old Age Pension Bill and then took up the time-consuming task of passing estimates.

The night sitting was devoted to the passage of appropriations for the departments of Secretary of State and Public Works but no major debate developed as ministers were questioned by the ministers responsible on departmental activities.

The Pensions Bill, vigorously condemned in a comparatively lengthy debate for failure to abolish the means tests and provide a more substantial increase, was given second reading without a registered vote. It will increase the basic payment from $25 to $30 monthly. Clause-by-clause study of the measure will begin today.

In a fiery wind-up to the debate, Health Minister Martin answered opposition criticism of the legislation and declared that the government would not be voting against the addition of 50,000 persons to the list.

He made the charge that John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, was "a man of straw" (PC-Toronto Extington) had telephoned Premier Drew and told him that he would not contribute after the federal budget was announced, but later withdrew his comment at Mr. Bracken's request.

Study Possibility Of To Fight Bush Fire

Toronto, June 26 (CP)—From Deputy Minister Frank MacDougall of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests came word today that department officials are studying the possibility of using man-made rain as a means of combating bush fires.

Electric Power Off 20 Minutes By Short Circuit

Toronto, June 26 (CP)—Duplicating similar delays eight days ago, electric power was cut out of Toronto and Southern Ontario municipalities for near 20 minutes yesterday afternoon.

The break, from 1:36 p.m. to 1:54 p.m. was attributed by Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission engineers to a loose connection in a main line dumper at a substation near the Toronto skyline.

All efforts are being made to avoid the possibility of a recurrence of the incident, officials said.

In some manner the inflammable material became ignited and the resulting flames fused the overhead wire, causing a short-circuit which halted power service.

Officials said that Toronto, Hamilton, and sections of Georgian Bay, Woodstock, Brantford, London, St. Marys, Cambridge, Stratford, Preston and St. Catharines were without power for 18 minutes.

Housewives Plan Effort to Stay Rising Living Costs

Ottawa, June 26 (CP)—One hundred Canadian housewives indignant over high prices and demanding government action, will interview Finance Minister Abbott today in an effort to stay rising costs of living.

Yesterday the women visited their members of Parliament and conferred with two opposition leaders, C.C.F. leader M. J. Coldwell told them "everybody who reads the paper" knew his party's position with regard to price controls.

Stanley Knowles, C.C.F. whip and member for Winnipeg North, warned them to avoid the fate of the 12-woman delegation, which descended on the capital three months ago. After demanding an installment of controls in the morning, the sealer group left in the Commons the same afternoon and heard the Finance minister announce removal of a long list of price ceilings.

Social Credit leader Solon Low then told them "Mrs. Low's husband" for some time and knew where the women stood.

16,000 FEWER UNEMPLOYED
THAN IN 1946

Labour Department Reports Definite Shortage of Labor
This Year

Ottawa, June 27 (CP) — The Labour Department, reporting on Canada's current manpower picture, said unemployment around the Dominion now was 16,000 fewer than at any time in 1946 and predicted that the remainder of this year would "not be a definite shortage of labor rather than an actual scarcity of labor."

The department declared that, taking the onset of a general economic upswing in employment, Canada's labor force now has approximately 16,000 of being unemployed—that is there are an actual 16,000 less jobs available than there are men seeking them.

At June 13 there were 116,000 unemployed applicants, compared with 132,000 at May 13 and 139,000 at May 8 this year and 139,000 a year ago. Of those 16,000 fewer men and women seeking jobs, 10,000 were men and 6,000 were women one month earlier.

Unfilled jobs

Unfilled jobs totalled 108,000 at June 13 compared with 98,000 at May 13, including 67,000 jobs for men and 41,000 for women compared with 50,000 and 30,000 respectively a month ago. The department said more men were getting jobs than women, but the women's shortage was not so marked a problem.

The figures were given by report by regions at June 13. There were 17,000 unemployed applicants and 8,000 unfilled jobs in the Atlantic region, 15,000 applicants and 5,000 unfilled jobs in the central region, and 15,000 applicants and 5,000 unfilled jobs in the western region.

Manufacturing work was the most important type of employment at this time last year. There is a growing more acute shortage of men in manufacturing and transfers for the transportation of goods and services are heavily sought. There is also a chronic shortage of men in the heavy and the logging industry reports a permanent shortage of men in the construction tradesmen are in demand.

Doctors Cautioned About Removal Of Tonsils, Adenoids

By JACK AVEON
(Ottawa Press Staff Writer)

Winnipeg, June 26 (CP) — The Canadian Medical Association today turned its attention to child physicians after having been told that operations to remove tonsils and adenoids should not be performed just before or during a poliomyelitis epidemic.

The caution concerning the removal of tonsils and adenoids was given yesterday by Dr. Robt. Macdonald, president of the association. He said that while all statistics are not available, the belief is that "if available, the belief is that if tonsils and adenoids are removed just before or during an epidemic of poliomyelitis, the patient is much more likely to contract poliomyelitis which affects the brain system."

It is added that he has never seen a tonsil case which was an emergency. "Such an operation can be postponed," he said.

Dr. Douglas Taylor of Toronto told the convention that a tremendous need exists in Canada for institutions capable of giving proper treatment and study the rheumatism and arthritis.

Charging that medical schools are not giving adequate education to students concerning these ailments, he said that "many people have become crippled through following the recommendations of well meaning but ill-advised friends or quacks."

The reason for this, he declared is that rheumatism and arthritis are not understood sufficiently by the majority of the medical profession to provide satisfactory relief for victims.

Un Still Faces Difficult Road, Leaders Point Out

Lake Success, N.Y., June 26—(AP)—The world's top-eight political leaders joined today in sounding grim warnings that the United Nations still faces a difficult and uncertain road ahead on the second anniversary of the world charter, signing at San Francisco.

The warnings were voiced in prepared charges and messages broadcast to the world by President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee of Britain, Premier Rostom of France, President Chiang Kai-Shek of China and Deputy Prime Minister Aneurin Bevan of the Soviet Union.

At the same time each of the representatives of the Five Big Powers expressed conviction that the United Nations would succeed in organizing the full support of their respective nations.

Truman, declaring that the UN is so far from being an atmosphere of disturbance as it is a place of peace and cooperation, said the government and people of the United States were convinced that the organization of the organization's objectives is not easy.

"They know that it is a complicated task and it will not be discouraged by temporary setbacks or delays," he said.

Attlee urged his listeners not to pay too much attention to the controversial discussions in the security council, and thereby overlook the constructive work which the United Nations is performing in the economic and social fields.

This is the cottage where from couples, including Miss Vandebilt, attended a Saturday night party. Miss Vandebilt left by the back door, seen here, and failed to return.

Dana Wilgress Is Acting High Commissioner

Ottawa, June 27 (CP)—Dana Wilgress, former Canadian Ambassador to Mexico, has been appointed acting Canadian High Commissioner to London to serve during the sick leave of Norman Macdonald, who is expected to return on behalf of Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Mr. Wilgress, now head of the international trade organization meeting in Geneva, recently was ordered to take two or three months rest to recover from a general run-down condition.

When Mr. Wilgress was withdrawn from Moscow a few months ago, it was announced that he would be appointed Canadian Minister to Switzerland. He was not to present his credentials until his return to Ottawa. He will take up his post after his duties in London are concluded.

U.S. Ambassador Warns Against Unilateral Acts

London, June 27 (AP)—United States Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas said today that Russian entry in European economic talks inspired confidence in their success, but warned against "unilateral political acts."

"Economic reconstruction must rest upon confidence in the stability of political institutions," Lewis declared in an address to the American Chamber of Commerce in London.

"Without this essential it cannot, I believe, be fully achieved," he said.

"It is therefore urgent that unilateral political acts committed either by states, or groups within states, which disturb confidence, encourage fear, and hinder economic reconstruction, must come to an end."

Negro Star Begins Winning Rally That Puts the Dodgers In First Place in League

Jackie Robinson Hits Double and Scores the Clinching Run

(By The Associated Press.)
The Dodgers' victory in the first place in the National League had a game last night, out-gunned Boston Braves led off by Jackie Robinson.

A crowd of 23,000 fans watched the Dodgers play to a 6-3 lead and then blow it in the eighth when the Braves staged a five-run rally to pull even but the running Brooks came back to score twice in their half to win.

Jackie Robinson began the Dodgers' winning rally with a double off relief pitcher Al Johnson. The Negro second baseman scampared home with the insurance run on Dixie Wetherby's single and Willie Smith's sacrifice fly. The Braves' pitcher, named pitcher Ralph Brannan with the lead, was out of the game when Robinson, who gained credit for the victory, hit both of the season, entered the game in the eighth and led the Braves off for the first time in two runs on a single and double.

Brooklyn's eighth place in the fourth place when Chicago White Sox as Allen Genge pitched the Braves to a 1-0 triumph over Chicago. Jim Hegan batted a two-run homer to the sixth inning.

THAT INCOME TAX SAVING

It's MONEY IN THE BANK...
if you're Smart

Next pay-day your pay cheque will be bigger. Because the reduction in your income tax will be effective.

Think of that increase as a raise in pay—as money in your pocket. Whether your income is $7,000 or $20,000, it's something extra to use in your own design for the future.

For some people it's going to mean more money to spend—an easier time in personal financing. That's good for most of us.

But is that all? Not for the wise ones. Wise folk won't let that money slip through their fingers. . . . Some will save 10%—some 50% . . . and some will save it all.

Plan your finances now for 1947. . . . figure out your tax saving and see that a good time of this money
